

SPECIELF DELIVERY

Dear _____,

The ELF.B.I has a top secret mission for you.

There are whispers of mischievous goings-on across the kingdom of the ELVES. Children's letters to Santa have been all jumbled up, Santa's sleigh and the presents have gone missing, and someone has been tampering with the Light Show in the village.

We need your help to discover who is behind it!

Your mission - should you wish to accept it - is to stay with us at Bluestone and have loads of Free Range Festive Fun.

When the time is right during your magical break - your big people will escort you to the kingdom of the ELVES and together we'll go on a great elfventure to unravel the truth and save the day. Remember to bring as much Christmas spirit with you as you can - that bit is very important!

In case this letter should fall into the wrong hands, we've been careful to leave out the dates. Don't worry though - your big people have already been briefed and can tell you exactly when your mission begins.

So, how about it? Will you come to the kingdom of the ELVES, join the ELF.B.I and help us to save Christmasland?

To accept this mission:

Ask your big person to share a photo of you with this letter on Facebook, Twitter, or Instagram and tag @bluestonewales.

We're elfcited to see you soon recruit!

Lots of love and reindeer dust,
Secret Agent Elf jingles.
